FEHMI CAN SENDAN (1962-2013)

Dr. Fehmi Can Sendan was born in 1962 in Tarsus. He finished Tarsus American College in 1981 and had his bachelor in 1985 and MA degrees in 1989 on English Language Teaching Methodology at Faculty of Education, Çukurova University. He studied Teaching English as a Foreign Language at University of Reading, UK between 1991-1995 and had his second MA and PhD Degrees on ELT Teacher education at this university. He was the founder and administrator of Uzman Language Education Center. He worked as a lecturer at English Language Teaching Department, Faculty of Education, Çukurova University between 1985-2012.

Some of his publications and presentations are;

Sendan, F. C. (1995). A Constructivist Approach to Tracing Personal and Professional Development. Presented at Second International Teachers Develop Teachers Research. Cambridge, January 1995.

It is rare that I can find a good friend like Fehmi Can Sendan since he was more than just a colleague for me. He was a wonderful person who always was willing to extend his helping hand. I always miss him.

Hasan Bedir

I feel myself indebted to him for everything he did for me as a teacher and a friend. Unfortunately, all I can do for him now are keeping on teaching the repertory grid technique to new students and writing a paper for him. I hope that he is pleased with these somewhere above.

Gülden İLİN

I'll always remember Professor SENDAN having solved the mystery of life as depicted in Mark Twain's saying: The two most important days of your life are the day you are born, and the day you find out why.

Yonca Özkan

The day when we stayed back till midnight to complete our term projects, the coffee breaks that we had in the mornings, the Monday when you covered up for me when I sneaked away from work, the exams we used to proctor together at the department...I can continue forever. You were not just a colleague but a very good friend too.
